AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN

Many Social Notes From Across Rock Creek Bridge.

Jean Ingelow Evening and a Dance Progress of the Evangelistic Meetings-Notes.

There was a "Jean Ingelow Evening" at Grace Church last night, and the delightful and beautiful thoughts of the talented poetess were most effectually presented to a large audience. Some of the efforts were set to music for the occasion. The selections were varied, and deep interest was manifested throughout the program. "The Songs of Seven," one of Jean Ingelow's most popular poems, was illustrated by appropriate tableaux, the young ladies of the church and children of the Sunday school forming the pictures. The poems were read by Miss Bertha Payne. Miss Bertha also gave a reading, "Jean Ingelow," and Miss Mary Lockwood followed with a vocal solo,

Mary Lockwood followed with a vocal solo,
"When Sparrows Build."

Then came Mr. R. Clinton Ballnger, who sang in splendid voice "The Snow Lies White." Mr. Ballnger's work with various church choirs is well known. Later there came a reading, "A Reverie," by Miss Laura Benton; solo (voca!), "O Fair Dove, O Fond Dove," Miss Emma Ballman; solo (vocal), "On the Rocks of Aberdeen," Miss Lulu Grimes.

The accompanists of the evening were Miss Anna Abbott, Miss Lulu Simmons and Mr. Richard S. Balinger. The program was the outcome of much care and preparation and proved a rich reward of effort. To Miss Minnie Grimes is largely due the credit of bringing about so happy a result

Dancing Party. Night before last there was an extremely pleasant dancing party given by the Misses McCarthy of 1668 Valley street. The house was decorated beautifully with palms and flowers for the occasion, and all the usual incidental attractions were there. Among those present were: Misses Mamie, Maggie and Helen McCarthy, Misses Ida, Maggie and Ella Riley, Misses Lottie and Lulu Colburn, Misses Katle and Mamie Whelan, Colburn, Misses Katle and Mamie Whelan, Miss Dolon, Miss Harrison, Mrs. Kidwell, Mrs. Weisenberger, Mr. Chas. WILLIAM M. WOOD KHLED.

Young Man From Washington Found Dead in a Freight Train. In the bottom of a gondola of a freight train, which arrived at Petersburg, Va., at a late hour Tuesday night from Norfolk, was found a white man, well dressed, and upon his face and head were ghastly wounds, and by his side was a heavy piece of oak railing, with which the man was probably beaten. The wounded man, who was in an unconscious condition, was taken to the city jail, where he died early cate which stated that Wm. M. Wood en-listed in the naval reserve of the United States September 15, 1888, and was hon-orably discharged November 15, 1889. Among other papers found on his per-son was a certificate signed by John Ccoper, inspector of hulls, and E. F. White, inspector of boilers for the city of Baltimore.

A telegram was sent to Mr. John H Cooper, inspector of hulls at Baltimore, and in reply this official stated that Wood telongs in Washington and advised the police authorities to communicate with William Clipper, Sun building, Washing-

William Clipper, Sun building, Washington, D. C. A telegram was immediately sent to that address.

A coroner's inquest was held in the afternoon and the verdict of the jury was that Wm. M. Wood came to his death on the 16th day of October, 1895, from wounds on the head inflicted by parties unknown.

Mr. Hess reached Petersburg last night from Washington and identified the body as that of Wm. M. Wood. Mr. Hess will leave for Washington with the remains teday.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Wm. Brennan and Henry Turner, two United States marines of the cruiser Minneapolis, and Adolph Lyners, a German emigrant, were arrested last night on the charge of being implicated in Wood's murder. They all acknowledge that they were der. They all acknowledge that they were on the freight train upon which the body of Wood was found, stealing a ride from Norfolk to Petersburg, and that they were ordered off the train by the conductor. They say they got off, but boarded the train again as soon as it started and came only as far as Waverly, which is twenty-two miles east of Petersburg, where they got off and spent the night in the woods and came to Petersburg on another train.

A Young Washingtonian.

W. M. Wood is a young Washingtonian about twenty-five years of age. His mother resides here with her two daughters and is a clerk in the Treasury Department. Young Wood had been in the navy, but about eighteen months ago was licensed in Baltimore as first mate upon the Atlantic coast trading vessels. Six months ago he went to San Francisco to become first officer upon a Pacific mail steamer. His friends supposed he was still upon the Pacific and do not know how he came to be in Petersburg.

At 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive and for over an hour Gen. Gibbon, Gen. Ordway and Col. Nicholson were kept busy greeting them. The lunch began at 9:30 o'clock, and was entirely informal, no specches being made. At its conclusion the speeches being made. At its conclusion the hosts and guests formed animated groups and told rare stories of the old war days.

AMUSEMENTS.

Lafayette Square Opera House.-The ver sion of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" which was presented at the Lafayette Square Opera House by Miss Ada Rehan and her admirable company was different from that given by Miss Marlowe and Miss Wainwright, and the setting of the play was more elaborate. The large audience present recognized the merit of the production and the excellence of the principal players by liberal applause. Miss Rehan's "Viola" has been commented upon in these columns during her former engagements, and it only need be said that she shows the same care and intelligence in her impersonation that has won for her warm commendation both in this country and in London. Mr. James Lewis was excellent as "Sir Toby," George Clarke was good as "Malvollo," as was also Herbert Gresham as "Sir Andrew Aguecheek." Mr. Craig as "The Duke," Mr. Sidney Herbert as "Sebastian," Miss Carlisle as "Olivia," Miss Percy Haswell as "Maria" and Mr. Guttenson made a fairly good chorus, and sang well. A son of Commissioner Truesdell made his first appearance here with the company, playing the part of "Valentine." Tonight "As You Like It" will be given, with Miss Rehan as "Rosalind."

Concert at Calvary Church.-A unique Concert at Calvary Church.—A unique and thoroughly enjoyable entertainment was the concert of the Park Sisters given last night at the Calvary Baptist Sunday school house. Quite a good-sized audience was present to hear this quartet of instrumentalists. They are versatile in their musical abilities, and their program last night included cornet solos, trios and quartets, mandolin solos and trios, a trombone solo, a zither solo, and a quartet for mandolin, zither and guitar. Some of their pianissimo effects on the cornet were particularly fine, and nearly every number was encored. The audience was favored with a ticularly fine, and nearly every number was encored. The audience was favored with a number not on the program, "The Lost Chord," a cornet quartet, in which the Park Sisters were accompanied by Mr. Percy S. Foster. Local artists assisting in the entertainment were Miss Zue Brockett and Mrs. Nellie Wilson Shir-Cliff; Miss Brockett with recitations and clever imitations, and Mrs. recitations and clever imitations, and Mrs. Shir-Cliff in two well-rendered soprano soles, in which she was accompanied by Dr.

Two Solid Hours of Humor,—Bill Nye is a walking encyclopedia of fun, and will make you forget all the ills and trouble of life for two solid hours. The exceedingly laughable carlcatures of Mr. Poole, who has the rare faculty of catching the very spirit of Mr. Nye's sketches, blend admirably with the droll humor of Nye, and between these two kings of the platform the spectator is kept in laughter throughout the entire evening. Whoever misses seeing and hearing them on Saturday evening, October 26, at Metzerott Hall, as they discourse upon the subject "Farming Exposed," will throw away an opportunity for a rare evening's enjoyment that may never come again.

"The 20th Century Girl."—The "20th Century Girl," one of the largest and strongest companies on the road today, with many well-known artists in the cast, will be at Allen's Grand Opera House on Monday, October 21. In speaking of the strength of this company, and the wide reputation of its members, such names as the following substantiate these words: Miss Mollie Fulier (in the title role), John T. Kelly and Gus Williams (the best-known Irish and Dutch character impersonators on the American stage today), Catherine Linyard (popular prima donna), Jesse Williams (who directs the chorus of forty voices), William Cameron (popular comedian), the three sisters Hawthorne, Georgia Hawley, Harriet Williams, Richard Barry, Emma Levey, Maud Dalton, Ida Wilhemly, Thomas Lewis and others just as well known and recognized for talent and merit. Manager Halien has spared no expense in securing his talent, nor has he forgotten to costume and stage the play with as much taste and lavish display as was done during its intital season. Some parts have been remodeled, and several new features, rew songs and novelties introduced, making it one of the brightest things in musical comedy.

William Haworth, Playwright.—Mr. Haworth, in writing his latest play set a grant of the purpose to which Arabin put it.

William Haworth, Playwright.—Mr. Ha-worth, in writing his latest play, set a shining example for his fellow craftsmen. He produced a timely American play, in story, characters and location, the really sterling result of a native author. He has woven into the five acts of the play plenty of interesting dramatic material, avoiding the mistake of many authors of today, who try to spread a one-act story over four or five acts. "On the Mississippi" fairly teems with stirring incidents and comic features, keeping a continuous show of excitement and mirth.

Sam Jack's Creole Ccmpany will be the attraction at the Lyceum next week. There never was, nor has there ever been, but one company of its kind, and that is Sam T. Jack's, which comes direct from his own opera house, Chicago, traveling in its own $15,000 palace hotel car. Mr. Jack is the originator of the entire entertainment, in which these artists have scored success season after season. The entire organization, including the selection of artists, native belles, costumes and scenery, has been fostered under his personal direction. At no time has he permitted it to get beyond his control, and as a result it stands today alone in its character, the only company of its kind in the world. This season Mr. Jack seems to have been peculiarly fortunate in securing new features, which he never fails to add, and not the least among these is his magnificent corps of Mastee maldens.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS

The First Step Taken Toward Organization of Committees.

Commencing in Warnest the Work of Preparation for the Big Convention Here Next July.

Christian Endeavorers are getting down nine months of vigorous activity in which to arrange for and complete the preparations for the fifteenth international convention, which is to be held here in July next Most of the societies belonging to the union have only recently elected new officers for the coming season, and, as a rule, new committees have been appointed. In order to more thoroughly acquaint the members of the various committees with their respective duties a series of committee confer-er.ces has been arranged for by the officers of the union, which will be held tomorrow evening at different down-town churches. wo such conferences have heretofore beer ield by the union, and the results have been very encouraging. It is the desire that all the members of various committees in each of the local societies will be present at the conference of that committee to which they belong and interchange ideas and give and receive suggestions as the best methods of contring out the to the best methods of carrying out the work of that particular committee. Leaders of the Conferences.

The places of meeting and leaders of the several conferences are as follows: Prayer meeting committees, Calvary Baptist Sun-day school house, Miss Anna J. Bell, leader; lookout committees, Calvary Baptist Sunlookout committees, Calvary Baptist Sunday school house, Miss Lizzle M. Warman; missionary committees, Mt. Vernon Place M. E. Church, Miss Florence Shuffle; social committees, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Geo. R. Linkins; Sunday school committees, E Street Baptist Church, Irwin B. Linton; good citizenship committees, Mt. Vernon Place M. E. Church, W. H. Pennell; good iterature committees, First Congregational Church, Walter N. Weston; calling, relief and flower committees, Fourth Presbyterian, Miss Emma E. Koehler; music committees, Calvary Baptist Sunday school house, Charles S. Clark.

First Step in Organization. Although the committee of '96 has been untiring in its activity in making preparations for the work of arranging for the has of necessity been of a preliminary character that it was not until today that the first tangible step toward organization of the various committees was taken. Today a circular was sent by the secretary of the committee to every society calling attention to the magnitude of the work before the committee and the necessity attention to the magnitude of the work before the committee, and the necessity of hearty and earnest co-operation on the part of each society. The president and officers of each society are requested to name members of their own organization to serve on the big committees and help in the work of preparation for the coming international meeting. It is estimated that fully 3,000 members will be needed on the committees. Blanks are sent with the circular to be filled in with the names of those persons whom the presidents and officers nominate for places on the committees, and within three weeks or a month the committee of '96 expects to be able to organize the large committees and actively begin the works.

Lost His Chie.

In February, 1890, Cenrad F. Arabin, employed in the bakery of Frederick Stollman, lost his right arm by having it caught in a machine. It was claimed that he was endeavoring at the time to cleanse certain clothes used in the business, and he sued Mr. Stollman, claiming $15,000 damages. The case was tried before Judge McComas in Circuit Court No. 2, and after testimony for the plaintiff had been given, Judge McComas, on the motion of the defendant.

The convention of retail liquor sellers which has been in session at the Ebbitt House since Monday, concluded its labors yesterday evening and adjourned to meet year hence in Cleveland. The election of officers resulted in a warm contest for the presidency between John Morrisey of Syracuse and Richard Patterson of Philadelphia, which Mr. Morrisey won. The other officers chosen were S. H. Carroll of Michigan, first vice president; August Koehler of New Jersey, second vice president; Robert J. Halle of Chicago, secretary (re-elected), and J. W. Howard of St. Louis, treasurer. P. H. Nolan of Port Jervis, New York, was chosen grand organizer, and the executive committee will consist of these officers as members ex-officio, and Charles Sheridan of Connecticut, Anton Hauber of Delaware, E. L. Jordan of District of Columbia, J. F. Gaintz of Illinois, T. F. Lally of Minnesota, Frank O'Donnell of North Carolina and John F. Welss of

At the conclusion of the meeting the delegates and their friends drove around the city until dark, and at 9 o'clock assembled in the red parlor and marched to sembled in the red parlor and marched to the dining room, where an elegant banquet was enjoyed. The hosts were the local committees representing the Liquor Dealers' Association of this city. The dining room was beautifully decorated and an excellent menu was served. The menu card was a unique creation and significant of the association. Mr. E. L. Jordan acted as toastmaster and toasts were answered by Mr. P. J. Carmody of St. Louis, President Morrisey, Mr. August Koehler, Mr. P. H. Nolan, Mr. Richard Pattison and Mr. E. H. Neumeyer. Letters of regret were received from Commissioners Ross and Powell.
